THE GERMAN TOWN FAIR.

Last Day—A Successful Meeting.

The thirty-first annual meeting of the Union Agricultural Society closed on Saturday last. The weather at the first was very disagreeable, but on the last two days was all that could be desired. The show of stock was very fine and the entries large. The crowd increased each day and fully 6,000 were present on Saturday. Hauke's band furnished the music throughout the week and was much complimented both by the officers of the association and the visitors. The fair was a success socially, financially, and will compare favorably with any of the previous fairs.

The following is a list of premiums awarded on the fourth day:

d 4 years of Baptist History." Those who heard it spoke of it as one of the grandest efforts they ever heard. Hon. W. H. Wadsworth declared it the best thing of the kind he had ever listened to. At the close of Dr. Spencer's address, Rev. W. P. Harvey took a collection to aid in repairing the old home, which amounted to $170. Then the large crowd was entertained again by the ladies with a dinner which, it is said, even surpassed the one on Saturday. All who attended this meeting were delighted and speak in the highest terms not only of the proceedings but of the hospitality of the people of Washington, as well. It was a day long to be remembered in that little city.

A Narrow Escape.
William Beck and Jerry Green, a couple of farmers from Wilson's Bottom, narrowly escaped drowning, Monday afternoon, about 1 o'clock, in the river opposite the Fifth Ward landing. They had come to this city earlier in the day, and were starting on their return home in a skiff.

The skiff, the Lioness No. 2, was passing down the river way up stream with a number of empties in tow. Beck and Green thought they would "lie on" to the tow boat and thus be saved the trouble of pulling their skiff home, and would get a nice boat-ride in the bargain. They accordingly, by hard work, made their way to the steamer, which was about midway the stream. The Lioness was traveling at a faster rate than the couple imagined, and on the attempt being made to fasten on to her the skiff was whirled around and overturned. Beck grabbed hold of the steamer and was drawn on board, escaping without any injury. Green was not so fortunate, being blinded by the steam and narrowly escaping being struck by the boat's wheel. He managed to secure hold of his overturned skiff and held on till he was rescued by some of the boat's crew. The officers of the Lioness deserve credit for their prompt action in the matter. The parties were returned to this city by Nat. Geo. and Henry Schlitz, who had started to their rescue, and took passage on the Handy No. 2 for their home. "Catching on" to a tow boat under way is always accompanied with danger, and we hardly think Messrs. Beck and Green will try it again very soon.

He Has Been Here.
In Monday's issue of the BULLETIN there appeared an article taken from the Clark County Democrat referring to the visit of a party named G. W. McWherter to schools of Winchester last week. McWherter, according to the Democrat, proposed to be working in the interests of a so-called "School Children's Orphan Home" at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and was soliciting money from the children of this State to pay for same. The Democrat expressed doubts as to whether such an institution as the one he had in mind, existence at all. Since publishing the article in Monday's issue, we have been informed by Mr. W. S. Frank, President of the School Board, that a man given this name as R. L. McWherter was in this city last week trying to work the same scheme here. He did not meet with any success, however, as the School Board refused him admission to the schools. The school board, however, investigated, and if McWherter is a fraud, the people of this State should know it.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is still confident the Democrats elected their legislative ticket in Hamilton County last Tuesday. The Enquirer generally knows what is taking place, and rarely ever "gets left." More than all, its readers never fail to get the news.

Wonderful in its name and great is its magnitude. At a considerable cost, it has procured one of the few Life-size Cameras that are used in the United States. It does away with the rough old paintings, crayons, and such like that flood the country. Their great accuracy is sure to be like you, and simply as an introduction I will make them at $10 for one portrait; $5 for duplicate. This is a rare opportunity for portraits of your mother and father. Call early and get your life-size portraits made, and in time to come you will not regret it. Any kind of pictures, from the small photos to Life-size, made. Copies enlarged. Frames of all sizes; cost from $1 up, at 27 East Second street, Mayville, Ky.

WALL STREET WONDERS

THE PRESENT SITUATION PUZZLES THE OLDEST HABITUE.

A New Firm Which Has sprung up—room-Like Into Existence—The Porky Gentleman From Chicago—About St. Paul—Mr. Armour's Parties.

New York, Oct. 20.—The notoriety of the stock exchange continues to perform wonders, puzzling even those who originated the bull movement last summer, who have since sold some of their early purchases, and who now see the market run away from them. There is no question that the speculative bull has been set rolling, and there is no telling now when and where it will stop. Purchases are made ten times as eagerly and freely now as when stocks were selling ten and twenty points lower. The development of the business of older firms demonstrates the progress in Wall Street affairs still more forcibly than the formation of new firms.

A house of great activity and importance sprang up quite recently in the firm of Green & Bateman. It is said to be one of the business of that firm has been built up by two customers, who seem to place implicit confidence in the ability of their brokers, and who are credited with having made from two to three millions since last summer. Their names are Victor Newcomb and "Pill" Armour.

The two men who have of late brought both this house and themselves to the front are remarkable for the utter simplicity in their tactics and ways of doing business. Armour goes into everything in which he sees chance to make money. He is a pork packer by trade and a pork corner maker by inclination. It is only last year that he made some of his Chicago friends pay $24 a barrel for pork, which, a year later, he sold at $9. But although he is immensely wealthy and has practical control of the whole market for hog products, he is not satisfied with it. He goes into wheat, corn, stocks, and last week he was even reported to be in petroleum. He is the great mainstay of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company, into the directorship of which he went some weeks ago, and of which he has already obtained something like an absolute control.

He is also reported to be deeply interested in the new pool for the Erie bonds and stocks. He is at his pork-packing office in Chicago every day before 7 o'clock in the morning, and never leaves it before 7 o'clock at night. He goes to bed at 10 o'clock with the minutest details of his immense business at the tips of his fingers. The only trouble about him is that of late he has been using the telegraph too freely, sending daily glowing "spatches" to every news agency and every important broker's office, giving his views of the magnificent prospects of the St. Paul company. Now, this sort of tips cannot help the stock, for New York speculators and investors have been too often taken in by railroad directors, presidents and manipulators who gave glowing descriptions of the prospects of their concerns, while they themselves were getting out of the stock and adding it upon the public.

A few facts in regard to the present condition of the St. Paul company will show much more good to the stock than all the expressions of the hopes or views of Mr. Armour, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Wallcut, or any of their associates. Let them give for instance, facts in regard to the increase of the population through which the road runs. Let them publish exact figures of the percentage which grain makes in the general freight traffic of the road. The public is still ignorant enough to think that St. Paul has nothing but grain to carry, and that consequently it is not much better off than Northern Pacific. Let them print every week a report of earnings as compared with those of the same week in former years, and if they show, as they did last week, an increase of $10,000, with a prospect of another increase of $10,000 for this week, the stock will go up without anybody pushing it, either by means of glowing telegrams or of wholesale sustaining orders in the board.

Victor Newcomb is quite a different sort of operator. He is understood to be deeply interested in St. Paul and several other stocks, and to have considerably increased of late an already large fortune; yet few people ever hear of him, and still fewer see him. He has the reputation of being very shy, but he produces the impression of being very shy, and his shortightedness, his short stature, and his generally retiring manner would never suggest to any outsider that he is the big operator he is. Although his name might imply it, he is by no means a newcomer in Wall Street, as he has been the president of a bank and an influential director in several corporations. But he never put himself forward or attempted to pose as a boss and build up a big Wall Street following.

The fact that two men like Armour and Newcomb seem to be in the swim fairly suggests that there is something more than the usual charge of profit in the St. Paul speculation. It is reported that they are both also in the Erie deal, but that is a dog of quite another color, and it is not clear how the proposed new loan of the Erie can in any way help the holders of the common stock.

A Rent in the Earth.

FAVETTEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 20.—Excitement in Beaufort county over the earthquake in Longview township continues unabated. It is near the Shiloh church. The fissure extends directly across the public road near the church. It is two inches in width and about one hundred yards in length, and it appears to be steadily widening at the rate of about a quarter of an inch a day. Some of the people have become frightened and are moving away from the place.

The Official Count.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20.—The official count of the votes cast in the election in Hamilton county has begun at the clerk's office. The work is proceeding very slow and, as the returns are not all in, the work will not be finished until the latter part of the week. Until this work is completed the result of the election cannot be decided, and any estimate made will be but guess work.

Judge J. B. Forsaker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Governor-elect Forsaker is expected here Friday. Arrangements are being made for a Republican mass-meeting that night at Madison Square garden. Senator Ervatt will preside. Ira Davenport and Gen. Carr will be present. Judge Forsaker is expected to deliver the principal address. He speaks at Jamestown on Wednesday and Rochester on Thursday.
